

MANY MEN ARE ENTOMBED BY EXPLOSION

TWELVE EMERGE ALIVE, BUT REST BELIEVED DEAD

Bodies Of Three Have Been Recovered— Debris Hinders

KEMMERER, Wyo., Sept. 16. (AP)—An official checkup tonight of the number of miners and workers in Sublet mine No. 5 when an explosion entombed all at 11:45 o'clock this morning show that but 47 men were in the mine at the time of the blast, according to officials of the Kemmerer Coal company, owners of the property. The number of entombed men was set at 81 in earlier estimates by the company. At a late hour tonight 12 miners had come out alive and bodies of three dead had been recovered.

The dead are William Hood, Harry Bennett and Paul Bahem. All three men were married and, with the exception of Hood, all leave children. Bahem had two small daughters and Bennett a family of several partially grown children.

The twelve miners who escaped alive were unharmed. They were caught just above the seventh level and a cave-in of the retaining walls saved them from death by gas and fire, according to meager reports available.

Another group of twelve miners were probably instantly killed when the explosion occurred, according to conjecture by mine experts.

Rescue work was proceeding slowly tonight because of the debris littering the workings and because of roads made impassable by a heavy downpour of rain throughout the day and night which hampered transportation facilities in bringing aid and rescue apparatus to the mine. Several bad cave-ins one of which saved the lives of the 12 miners, are in the path of the rescuers, before they can reach the remainder of the mine crew which company officials tonight declared could not have survived the blast and the subsequent small fires and gaseous accumulation. Workers and company officers were astonished tonight when the twelve miners walked and climbed thru the debris of the mine mouth and into the arms of their kinfolk.

Only the miraculous location of the cave-in, officials declared, saved the men.

A resounding roar that reverberated thruout the little mining camp nestling in the mountains brought residents from their homes in a blinding rain storm to the mouth of Mine No. 5, a drift mine, there to claim their dead.

So many residents congregated around the tunnel entrance that it was with difficulty that workmen and rescue crews were able to start the work of rescue.

News of the disaster was sent to Kemmerer and rescue crews from the mines in the adjacent territory, many of them owned and operated by the Kemmerer Coal company and others by the Union Pacific railroad company were quickly formed and started on their way to the mine.

The rain continued to fall in torrents and the road to the mining camp became nearly impassable. An urgent call for help was dispatched to the bureau of mines headquarters at Denver, Colorado and rescue car No. 2, on duty at Trinidad, Colo., was ordered to proceed with all dispatch to the scene of the disaster.

A second car No. 1, held at Butte, Mont., was ordered held in readiness for the journey in case it was needed.

Gas Hinderers
As soon as a clearing large enough to admit a man had been made into the wrecked portal rescuing parties attempted to enter the mine but were forced to withdraw because of the gas which

CHINESE WAR NEWS

(By The Associated Press)
Civil war Tuesday continued to spread over China.

In the north, a clash between troops of Chihli and Manchuria was reported near the borders of the provinces, while further preparations pointed to fighting soon near Shanhaiwan.

On the middle coast, near the "gateway" port of Shanghai, the fiercest fighting of the war continued all night on all battle lines within a hundred miles of the city.

Only in the south was no change reported. So far as known Sun Yat Sen, head of the south China government still was gathering troops for a campaign to aid the defenders of Shanghai.

FEDERAL AGENTS IN LINCOLN BOOZE RAID MAKE MANY ARRESTS

Seventeen Places Are Visited And Hundreds Of Gallons Found

LINCOLN, Ill., Sept. 16.—Hundreds of gallons of liquor, stills of almost every variety were confiscated and seventeen persons arrested in quiet but highly effective raids here about 7:00 o'clock tonight. The federal officers came into the city and deputized between fifty and sixty local citizens. The raids on seventeen places were simultaneous.

Much of the booze was destroyed at once but samples were taken by the officers. Some of the house occupants offered resistance and some of these met with severe treatment. One man lost two teeth and was given a severe lecturing when he arrived at the city hall.

In several cases there was a grand scramble to break the containers and let the evidence seep away but in most cases the raiders got samples for evidence.

This is the first series of raids made in Lincoln by federal men. Other points of Logan county have been visited. Some of them were inclined to blame the Invisible Empire for support in the raids. Those who were given warrants are to appear Thursday morning at the federal building at Springfield. Two of the men making the raids were United States marshals. Others were federal men from the Peoria and Decatur offices. They were directed by Al Gury, acting group chief, with headquarters at Decatur. The arrests included the wife of a justice of the peace.

Two Persons Dead,
Many Are Injured
In Georgia Storm

Aged Man And Child Instantly Killed—Roads Are Impassable

MACON, Ga., Sept. 16.—Two persons are dead and a half dozen or more others injured as a result of the storm that has been sweeping thru Southern Georgia. In Nashville, Georgia, tonight an electric wire that had been torn loose fell when the current was turned on and killed R. M. Chism, 65, proprietor of a general store.

The storm reached the proportion of a tornado near Brunswick, and killed one person and injured a half dozen others. The five year old daughter of William Penn was instantly killed. The Penn home was demolished. Mrs. Penn was badly injured as was an infant daughter. A half dozen homes near the Penn residence were wrecked.

Three negroes were caught under the debris of one building all of them sustaining injuries. No one was injured in other cities in Southern Georgia, so far as can be ascertained tonight, though many of the towns are cut off from the outside world, wires being down. The roads are impassable.

NEXT STAGE OF AIRMEN FLIGHT PLANNED TODAY

Fog Holds Up Flight From Chicago— Omaha Next

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—The next hope of their flight stopped by bad weather, Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith and his little band of globe encircling aviators rested today and tonight hoping that the weather man will give them a better day tomorrow.

The fliers had hoped to take off from the airmail field at Maywood, at 6 o'clock, Central Standard time this morning for the 440 mile trip to Omaha, but a heavy fog over the city and for nearly eighty miles around prevented their leaving.

They waited three hours for the weather to clear and then, knowing that they would be unable to reach Omaha before dark postponed the flight until tomorrow.

Lieutenant Smith said that as long as the planes had nearly completed the trip around the world it would be foolish to take any chances.

Plans are now to take off at 8:30, Central Standard time, in the morning. The route is to be the same as arranged for today. They will fly in a straight line from Chicago to the Tri-Cities, Davenport, Moline and Rock Island, then to Iowa City, Des Moines and Omaha.

The aviators expect to leave Omaha Thursday morning and fly to Muskogee, Okla. This flight may be split and a stop made at St. Joseph, Mo. Lieutenant Smith said, but added that he would not know definitely until he reached Omaha.

All of the fliers stayed in their rooms of their hotel this afternoon and rested. Tonight they were given guests at a private dinner given them by the hotel management and later they separated each to do as he wished. Virtually every theatrical company in town invited them to be the guests at the evening performances, but it was left to the aviators to do what they wanted.

They planned to retire early tonight and start for the field tomorrow several hours before time to leave.

TICKER AROUSES SICK OPERATOR

VANCOUVER, B. C., Sept. 16. (AP)—The ticking of his private Morse code call at an instrument by his bedside last night, restored to consciousness J. T. Phelan, superintendent of the Dominion Telegraph Co. here, after he had been in a comatose condition for nearly a week.

Superintendent Phelan was ill for weeks following the death of his wife, and had been unconscious for six days, attending physicians disclosed today. On the suggestion of a physician an instrument was installed by Phelan's bedside and "P.N." his private call ticked off. Mr. Phelan smiled and opened his eyes when the ticker announced "Every day in every way."

Then the ticker suggested that Phelan drink a little milk. Phelan reached out his hand for the glass and took the first nourishment in six days.

He was reported convalescent today.

FRIEND OF JIMMY MURPHY KILLS SELF

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—E. C. Cheney of Decatur, Ill., a personal friend of "Jimmy" Murphy, noted automobile racer killed in the east a few days ago, committed suicide by shooting himself tonight while in his room in a downtown hotel. Hotel employees said he had been brooding over the death of his friend and could advance no other reason for the act. Cheney was a salesman.

His mother resides at Decatur.

WOMAN KILLED AND HUSBAND HURT IN SPILL

Bloomington, Ill., Sept. 16.—Mrs. Frank Hatch, 68 years old, Antioch, Ill., was killed and her husband, 75 years old, seriously injured when the automobile in which they were riding skidded off the wet pavement north of here tonight. They had just passed another automobile and in passing the fenders caught, the impact causing Mr. Hatch to lose control of the car and skidding it into the ditch.

Witnesses claim they were driving about 25 miles an hour. Mr. Hatch was brought here to a hospital.

Thousands See Legion Parade At St. Paul

ST. PAUL, Sept. 16. (AP)—Downstreets banked with humanity, past plazas packed with cheering thousands, more than 25,000 members of the American Legion marched today as an outstanding event of their national convention. With legionnaire Charles G. Dawes tramping along with his Illinois "buddies" the long line wound its way past a reviewing stand at the state capitol, where National Commander J. R. Quinn headed the group of prominent visitors which reviewed the parade.

Police estimates of the crowds that witnessed the spectacle placed the number in excess of 150,000. In the reviewing stand with Commander Quinn were Governor J. A. O. Preus of Minnesota, W. B. Haldeman of Louisville, commander in chief of the United Confederate Veterans; S. R. Vansant and E. Torrance of Minneapolis, past commanders of the G. A. R. and former Judge K. M. Landis.

Troops from Fort Snelling headed the parade, and the first legion department in the line was Florida, followed in order by New Mexico, Tennessee, Wisconsin and on down the line in accordance with membership increase ratings. Seventy one departments were represented. Numerous bands and drum corps were in the parade, competing in the annual band and drum competition.

A handful of Civil War Veterans with their own fife and drum corps, received a big hand all along the line. Commander Quinn led the parade to the reviewing stand wearing the garb of a cowboy and mounted on a bay horse. The Texas delegation was headed by its old gray mare, with Miss May Peterson riding it.

Post mascots were there in every conceivable variety, from plain dog, to Missouri's inevitable mole, raccoons and porcupines. Racine, Wis., Post, with a float typifying "The Spirit of '76" won first prize in the floats section of the parade, today's feature event of the national American Legion convention.

Helene Post, Minneapolis, was awarded second prize and the Women's Overseas League, St. Paul, placed third. Drum corps selected to compete in the finals tomorrow include: Walter R. Craig, Post No. 60, Rockford, Ill., and Kankakee Post No. 85, Kankakee, Ill. Winner of first prize in drum corps competition will receive $750; second $300 and third $200.

SHAYER ADMITS THAT LAFOLLETTE'S PARTY MUST BE CONSIDERED

If Election Were Held Today No Party Would Have Majority

NEW YORK, Sept. 16. (AP)—"If the election were held today no candidate would have a majority in the electoral college," Clem L. Shaver, chairman of the Democratic National committee said in a statement tonight. Chairman Shaver, who was about to depart for Chicago to consult with the mid-western managers of the Davis-Bryan campaign said he did not believe the people wanted to be fed with the usual "fool predictions" which emanate from headquarters.

Mr. Shaver made the statement in response to questions by a group of newspapermen concerning his judgment of the present situation. When Mr. Shaver was asked to elaborate on his reply he said he could not do so now without making statements that might be misunderstood.

"There is no doubt of the strength of the LaFollette-Wheeler movement in certain states," he asserted, "and whether or not this movement will grow or decline is a contingency that cannot be determined but which must be considered. So far as we can ascertain it is cutting into the Republican votes in the states President Coolidge must carry to be sure of election."

Asked about Illinois, he said: "I am not making any fool predictions. But in that state, with its twenty nine electoral votes, we have the same condition that exists in Wisconsin, which is wedded to LaFollette. This LaFollette vote is a bloc vote as well as a political vote."

He explained that he regarded the 700,000 German sympathizers in Illinois as irrevocably committed to the Wisconsin senator.

TRI-CITIES STAGE PREMATURE WELCOME

DAVENPORT, Iowa, Sept. 16. (AP)—The four cities of Davenport, Rock Island, Moline and East Moline were so excited over the coming visit of the United States world fliers, this morning, that they made two false starts to welcome the airmen. The trouble arose over the activities on a local aviation field where fliers were preparing to go up and escort the three world flight planes into the three cities. Every appearance of the local planes in the air was followed by a wild burst of whistles from factories, locomotives and Mississippi river craft. Thousands of telephone calls were received by newspapers.

There was general disappointment when the flight was postponed until tomorrow. Air conditions here were perfect.

BUTLER GRATIFIED WITH PRESENT OUTLOOK

Chicago, Sept. 16.—Reports of gratifying progress of the Republican campaign in the eastern and New England states were brought to Chairman William M. Butler of the Republican national committee today by two managers of the Republican forces along the Atlantic seaboard.

WILLIE DALTON GOES ON TRIAL FOR THIRD TIME

Stole $772,000 In Liberty Bonds Over 3 Years Ago

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—"Wee Willie" Dalton, on trial for the theft of $772,000 in Liberty Bonds from the bank where he was employed took the stand today to tell of the theft, the escape and his capture. His narrative carried him down to the point where, in a small Illinois town, he played billiards with a stranger, the black bag containing the loot resting carelessly against a wall as he played.

Dalton, who was sixteen when he stole the bonds and who now is attending high school here said he had access to the bank's vaults and that he had counted millions of bonds while employed there.

The impulse to steal he said, came two days before he arrived at a decision to do so. He had no plans in the matter, purchasing an automobile with a bond that he had sold. He traveled down thru Illinois, he said, being caught in the town where he had tarried to play billiards.

A jury in the case, the third to hear evidence against Dalton was impaneled early today. In his opening argument Thomas Nash, defense attorney indicated that he would set forth that his client had been overcome emotionally by the sight of so much money.

"Bond intoxication" was the term given as the cause of the theft by Attorney Nash, who said that Dalton had been counting bonds for so many days that he could think of nothing else.

Only three witnesses were called by the state. They were William S. Miller, vice-president of the Bank, Paul S. Draper of Bloomington, who recognized Dalton from pictures in the newspapers and aided in his arrest and Judge Charles E. Brown of Bloomington, before whom the boy brought his "find."

The defense then put on several character witnesses, including Lorenz Mesterhelm former Cook county jailer. They were followed by Mrs. Nora Dalton, widow, mother of the defendant. She testified as to William's age when he ran away with the bonds three and a half years ago. He had gone to work for the bank a year before when he was 15, she said, and was then paid $4 a month.

S. GLENN YOUNG IS RENOUNCED BY KLAN

CHICAGO, Sept. 16. (AP)—S. Glenn Young, formerly paid leader in liquor raids, sponsored by the Ku Klux Klan in southern Illinois, has been relieved of all connection with the organization of the office of Charles G. Palmer, grand dragon of the Illinois Klan announced today.

Mr. Young's inordinate craving for personal publicity is said by his friends to be responsible for the action of high officials who are sworn to protect the organization from any taint of commercialism, says the Illinois Courier, organ of the Klan in Illinois. It is agreed that the law enforcement officer, performed a splendid service in Williamson county for which he was well recompensed.

Young's wife was blinded by shots and he was wounded by assailants at the same time in southern Illinois, some time ago, when fired on from ambush, and he is under indictment at Danville on federal charges in connection with his activities in southern Illinois.

LOEB IS ALLOWED HIS FIRST VISITOR

JOLIET, Ill., Sept. 16. (AP)—Richard Loeb, who with Nathan Leopold, Jr., is serving the first week of a life sentence in the state penitentiary here for the kidnapping and slaying of Young Robert Franks at Chicago, today had his first visitor.

Allan Loeb, his brother, visited the penitentiary and for half an hour talked earnestly with his brother across the broad white table in the visitors' room while a guard looked on and listened in.

Visitors may bring edibles to inmates if the prisoners consume the "outside" food during the visit, but Richard's brother brought nothing with him. At the end of the conversation Richard was led back to work while his brother returned to Chicago.

Young Loeb can have no more visitors for two weeks. No one has been to visit Leopold since his arrival at the prison last Thursday night.

LAFOLLETTE REVISES HIS NEW YORK SPEECH

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Secluded in his home here, Senator Robert LaFollette continued work today on the speech he will deliver in New York City Thursday night in opening his campaign as an independent presidential candidate. After preparing a tentative draft of the address, Senator LaFollette consulted several of his intimate advisers among them Gilbert E. Roe, his former law partner and now director of the campaign in the eastern states who conferred with him for several hours today. A number of revisions were made in the text and it was indicated that certain sections would be considerably revamped at the last minute.

DAWES ABANDONS HIS POLITICAL ROLE AND JOINS HIS "BUDDIES"

Takes Part In Annual Parade—Takes Rough Stuff With Others

ST. PAUL, Sept. 16. (AP)—Abandoning for the time his role as Republican candidate for vice president, Charles G. Dawes, marched today with his "buddies" of overseas days in the annual parade of the national convention of the American Legion. He also reviewed the parade, not from the reviewing stand in company with legion officials and national and state dignitaries as invited, but from a crowded street corner where he was pushed and shoved about just as were the thousands of others who crowded the four mile line of march.

The invitation to take a place in the reviewing stand opposite Minnesota's state capitol was declined because he said "the legion is a non-political organization and far be it from me to do anything that might inject politics into it."

So when the Illinois department's section came along Mr. Dawes and half a dozen friends, all members of the Evanston, Ill., post, dropped into line behind the colors and not more than one person in 500 along the route of march saw the man in pencil striped blue suit and gray felt hat as the Republican vice-presidential nominee.

Mr. Dawes left here tonight to spend tomorrow and Thursday at his home in Evanston before starting on his next campaign speaking trip to Sioux Falls, S. D.

COOLIDGE EXPRESSES SATISFACTION WITH POLITICAL PROSPECT

Receives Many Invitations For Speeches In Other Cities

WASHINGTON, Sept. 16. (AP)—Satisfaction over the trend of the campaign was expressed today by President Coolidge to friends. He added that while many pressing invitations had been received for him to speak in other cities he had not decided on his program for October and hoped no inferences would be drawn from his receipt of the invitations or any action he might take on them.

In this connection Mr. Coolidge told his visitors most of the invitations were of a character seeking his presence at ceremonies at the president. With reference to the state of William M. Butler, chairman of the Republican national committee, that "no" plans had been made for Mr. Coolidge to make a speaking tour it was made plain that in the president's opinion, no presidential candidate was ever injured by not talking too much.

The only engagement of Mr. Coolidge's calendar today was the regular semi-weekly meeting of his cabinet. Only routine matters were discussed at this session it was said.

The president however, receiving Samuel Adams, magazine editor and student of agriculture problems and Representative Faust of Missouri, for brief conferences. Mr. Faust painted a brighter picture of the political situation in Missouri than had been received on previous occasions and the he said he spoke more intimately of the northwest part of the state, he ventured a prediction that Mr. Coolidge would get a good share of the majority won by President Harding in Missouri in 1920.

Senator Wheeler's night meeting was preceded by preliminary noon gatherings, chiefly attended by women, at which Mrs. Lulu W. Wheeler, his wife, made her first campaign speech. She declared that her observations in following the campaign tour had convinced her that women were going to support the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket very generally because of Senator LaFollette's stand in opposition to war. An innovation in campaign methods was brought out by the local managers of the independent ticket when they asked for and obtained a fifty-cent admission fee to hear Senator Wheeler's speech. The hall was rated to seat 2,038 persons and was solidly filled before he began to speak.

DAVIS MAKES SHORT SPEECH FROM TRAIN

ON THE DAVIS SPECIAL TRAIN, Sedalia, Mo., Sept. 16. (AP)—A word of greeting to his fellow Democrats was voiced by John W. Davis, Democratic presidential nominee in a rear-platform address here early tonight. Mr. Davis spoke but a few minutes the stop being one of several platform appearances scheduled before reaching Kansas City late tonight.

The Davis party left Syracuse, Missouri, at 5 o'clock enroute to Des Moines, Iowa where the Democratic standard bearer will deliver an address tomorrow night on tariff and taxation.

WHEELER SCORES MELLON IN TALK AT PITTSBURGH

Says Treasury Head Accepts Finance As His Religion

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 16. (AP)—Secretary Mellon, his conduct of the treasury department and his influence with the Republican administration were alike made targets for unstinted criticism from Senator Wheeler of Montana, Independent vice-presidential candidate in his address to a Pittsburgh audience tonight. The treasury head Senator Wheeler asserted, "embodied the economic idea that government existed solely for the protection of property" and added that "in matters of taxation, public expenditures, finance, law enforcement, foreign oil, and related questions, Mr. Mellon's quiet voice is pretty supreme in the present administration."

"An example of Mr. Mellon's tenderness toward property," Senator Wheeler went on, had been exhibited in laxity of prohibition law enforcement.

He is in charge of the prohibition enforcement department of this government," Senator Wheeler said. "He was in the whisky business forty years and was a part owner of many thousands of barrels of whisky when the 18th amendment went into effect. According to Governor Pinchot, of Pennsylvania, he was still interested in the proceeds of this whisky when it was sold."

"Men get the idea that property is sacred and little else is when they spend too much of their time and thought to amassing property," he continued. "They get the idea in particular that the constitution was drafted for the single purpose of protecting property. Perhaps that is why you are hearing so much in this campaign about our trying to tear down the constitution. Many of our wealthy people, I truly believe, do not know that the constitution was intended to protect human rights as well as property rights. I scarcely need to tell you Mr. Mellon is of that class which regards property as sacred and feels that the bigger the property the more sacred it is. Big finance has been his ideal of life. It has been his religion and Wall street his mother church."

"It is not strange that he cannot understand the needs and the feelings of the wage earner, the farmer, the small business and professional man. When he set about devising tax reduction plans he naturally devised one which would reduce your taxes and mine very slightly and the millionaires' very much. He was probably genuinely surprised to consider any objection to that. Fortunately there were some progressives in congress and they compelled the adoption of a measure that had some elements of justice in its treatment of the small tax payer."

Senator Wheeler's night meeting was preceded by preliminary noon gatherings, chiefly attended by women, at which Mrs. Lulu W. Wheeler, his wife, made her first campaign speech. She declared that her observations in following the campaign tour had convinced her that women were going to support the LaFollette-Wheeler ticket very generally because of Senator LaFollette's stand in opposition to war. An innovation in campaign methods was brought out by the local managers of the independent ticket when they asked for and obtained a fifty-cent admission fee to hear Senator Wheeler's speech. On one thing all political leaders can agree. There is a mighty strenuous effort this year to capture the farmer vote. In this contest for farmer support certainly the Republican party has the best of the argument, if records and statistics are to have weight.

In New York not long since an honor convict made his escape from a road gang and sought refuge in his home. The father persuaded the son to return to the prison walls. It took some strength of character on the part of both, but it was far the wiser course. A man may serve a prison sentence, be released and become a useful member of society.

ity. But if he escapes and is not recaptured, all his life long there is the haunting fear that the hand of the law may again reach out and touch him.

Mr. West, who is making a city plan for Jacksonville, has pointed out that the older trees in Jacksonville were of a harder kind and planted in a much better way than is true of the trees of later years. It may be that the pioneer residents of Jacksonville planted elms because they could best transplant them from the wooded spots near the city.

But the more likely explanation is that the elms were chosen because those who planted them came from the east and knew the beauty of elms of larger growth. These pioneers did some city planning for they looked forward into the years and while they knew that the trees would not come to full maturity during their life time, they realized that coming generations would get the benefit.

In the later years people have planted trees for quicker growth, sometimes for commercial reasons with the thought of selling real estate more readily. We must give these pioneers credit for both vision and unselfishness in the great contribution they made to Jacksonville in the planting of elms.

OLD HOMES MADE NEW

"Better homes" is usually taken to mean better-built new homes. Prizes awarded in better-homes contests are nearly always given for new construction which emphasizes modern touches in house-building. But a prize of this kind given in Alameda County, Va., was awarded to an old house, so dilapidated that it had been abandoned as hopeless.

A group of farm women in the vicinity saw the possibilities in that wreck. They set to work painting, papering, plastering, patching and fixing it up generally, inside and outside, from roof to basement, until they effected a complete transformation. They had the heavy work done by men, and some of the materials and equipment were donated, but the ideas were theirs and they did nearly all of the actual work themselves. They have their reward in a coveted prize and in the satisfaction gained from a supremely fine piece of home-making, which is woman's specialty.

Their achievements will be an inspiration to thousands of other people, in their own community and wherever the story is told. It is a reminder of the fact, so often ignored, that the country is full of old houses which, by the expenditure of a little time, money and brains, could be made into homes as comfortable and attractive as any of the latest model.

It should help also to remove the general prejudice of a wasteful generation against "old houses." Finicky and superficial purchasers and renters nowadays are apt to turn up their noses at homes, 20 years old or more, ignoring the fact that there is many a house in this country, charming, convenient and in good condition, after a century of use. There is no good reason why any house that is well built in the first place should not last for at least 50 years, with reasonable care and occasional replacement of parts most subject to wear.

BETTER TIMES AHEAD

BY ALBERT APPLE

The iron and steel industry, which leads the way for all other business activities, is slowly but steadily climbing back up toward full-time operations.

The gain in pig iron production in August was only 6 percent the first check to the drop that the first check to the drop that started late in March.

With the national election out of the way, and uncertainty and superstitious public fear allayed, times may boom suddenly. The iron and steel industry not infrequently leaps upward with rather amazing speed. In August, 1922, pig iron output had dropped to 1,816,170 tons. In four months it was up past 3,000,000 tons.

That may happen again in iron and steel—and in general business. All hope so.

Lots of business rainbows in the sky. Election will soon be over. Steel industry on the upgrade. Europe, having finally settled the reparations problem (for a time, at least), should convalesce faster; this, in turn, would stimulate American business.

The farmer is in better shape, his buying power gradually being restored. Business failures recently have been the lowest of the year. Railroad freight loadings have been running the highest of the year to date.

All these point infallibly to better times ahead.

America went through severe hard times a few years back. That always occurs after a big war. Here's what happened after the Napoleonic wars and after the Civil War:

War's end brought a boom, followed by depression in which prices dropped. Then came another boom, and prices went up but not quite as high as before. Later things slumped and prices sagged. Then recovery. And so on.

We've been going thru the same process—a post-war boom, depression, another boom or second period of inflation, and recently the reaction, downward. The stage again is set for a turn upward.

We'd be better off if we could have good business all the time, instead of booms and depressions alternating. The thing could be arranged—and will be later, when men understand more about controlling the buying power of the dollar, or, in other words, how to stabilize prices.

Business conditions and prices are Siamese twins.

Germans

For the first month since 1921, Germany admits that she had a foreign trade surplus in July. Exports exceeded imports by four and a half million dollars.

This isn't a big sum, as such things go. But it is important because it may be the turn of the tide. Only by selling more than she buys can Germany pay reparations on any large scale.

Explosion

The 100 million pounds of high explosives ordered by the national government is the largest single order for "powder" ever placed. Even in war time there was no such buying in one order.

This enormous amount of explosives will be used for highway construction, agricultural purposes, etc.

It starts you thinking, how much could have been accomplished in the way of progress if the explosives, money and human energy wasted in the war had been turned to construction.

Debt

The national debt now is about 21 billion dollars. This is nearly four and a half billions less than the peak which was reached in 1919.

A considerable part of the reduction was brought about, by salvage—selling surplus war supplies.

From now on, the debt will decrease more slowly. Any cut will come out of taxpayers' pocketbooks and repaid allied loans.

AFTER THE CIVIL WAR

(BY ENSLEY MOORE)
Member Illinois Historical Society

The year after the Civil War, 1866, there was a convention of Andrew Johnson men from the south generally, some from the north, in the city of Philadelphia.

As an off set to this, A Southern Loyalists convention met in Philadelphia.

It was addressed by a number of the prominent Loyalists of the North, among whom was our great war governor Richard Yates.

The Jacksonville Journal had the following in part regarding Mr. Yates' part in that convention:

"We find in the Philadelphia Press the following complimentary mention of our distinguished fellow-citizen, and the part he took in the late Philadelphia convention of Southern Loyalists:

"We wish we had it in our power to give a full report of all the speeches at the League, and at National Hall and other places, yesterday; but in order to do this our space should be many times larger than it is. Among others to whom we have not been able to do justice, we cannot omit to mention the distinguished senator from Illinois, the Hon. Richard Yates, who, answered for that glorious commonwealth. His speech at the League was one of the finest of his efforts—eloquent, electric, impassioned. In his reference to the copperhead shout against Frederick Douglass, he said he would rather walk arm in arm with that highly accomplished gentleman than march in a Johnson procession with the best bred of the well buttered brigade."

"We also find in the same copy of the Press the following report of one of the speeches of Senator Yates:

"Delegates of the state of New York: I feel like commencing my remarks where Senator Chandler left off, and saying that I believe that the Lord is on our side. (A voice, "God be praised") and that I have an ever present, ever living and unextinguishable conviction that the God of battles is on the side of human liberty. We have stood back in wonder and amazement at the President of the United States after the murder of the good and great Lincoln, the most loved and honored of all men of this Union, a name before which every head in the civilized world stands uncovered, we are amazed that the successor of this great man—the accidental successor—should turn traitor to the high principles upon which he was elected, and betray the loyal millions who conferred upon him such high and distinguished honor; and some of our friends have said in their fears, what is to become of the nation? As for me, I stand where I have ever stood. No cloud has ever darkened the horizon so far as I am concerned. When I see traitors, peace democrats, copperheads, and office seeking republicans, entering into a bold conspiracy to overthrow this republic, I say as Moses did to the people of Israel, "be still and see the salvation of God." I know that President Johnson has said that he has been whipping out traitors on the southern end of the line, and now that he professes to be whipping out traitors on the northern end of the line.

"Fellow citizens, I have to say to President Johnson the same thing that one of our Illinois judges said to a prisoner who had been convicted of the crime of murder. The judge was a man of amiable and pleasant feelings, and sympathized with the murderer. When the unfortunate man was called before him he said:

"Mr. Smith, it is my duty to pronounce sentence upon you; it is an unpleasant duty, but the law requires me to fix some time when you are to comply with the penalties of the law, and when you are to be hung. Now, Mr. Smith, I want to know when it would suit you to be hung?" (Laughter) When Andrew Johnson proposes to subjugate and overthrow the loyal millions of the north, I wish to ask him, "Andrew Johnson, when will it suit your pleasure to be hung?" (Applause). I have to say this, that under the providence of God, and by the favor of the people, I raised 250,000 troops, who went forth to conquer in the cause of freedom and uphold the glorious stars and stripes, and they reflected glory and honor upon themselves in every battlefield of the war. (Applause)

"But, fellow-citizens, when this conspiracy of peace democrats in the north, the traitors in the south, and the bread-and-butter republicans of the north say they propose to whip us down on the other end of the line, I stand here to say that Illinois, instead of 250,000 men will send 500,000 men to—(Here the applause was so great that the concluding words of the sentence were lost.) The men who have sustained this country during the war are equal to any emergency they may be called on in these piping times of peace. (Renewed cheering.) I tell you that as far as Illinois is concerned, she is like Caesar's wife, not only virtuous, but above suspicion. (Cheers) I am for the American, the Englishman, and just now especially for the Irishman (Applause and laughter.) I hope to see the happy day come when the Emerald Isle will glory in the pride of her strength in an independent nationality. (Applause)"

RECORDS IN FORBES CASE IMPOUNDED

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—The personal files of John W. Thompson, Chicago and St. Louis contractor, declared by the government to have an important bearing upon the relations between Thompson and Colonel Charles R. Forbes during the latter's administration of the veterans' bureau were impounded today by Federal Judge George A. Carpenter in answer to a petition in behalf of Thompson that the papers be returned to the contractor by the federal department of justice. Judge Carpenter characterized as "indefensible" the method by which he was advised, by defense counsel, the papers had been secured. In commenting upon the statement of Randolph Laughlin counsel for Thompson that the subpoena for the files had been issued from the office of the United States district attorney here without an order of the court and before the impounding of a special grand jury which received evidence in the veterans' bureau case last February, Judge Carpenter stated that "the man on the street has as much right in this court as the assistant attorney general."

was pouring from the mine. Orders were sent at once to the Frontier mines at Diamondville, Cumberland and Rock Springs, for rescue workers and late in the afternoon a crew of about 200 men had been assembled at the mine.
These men were sent into the main entrance and also to the fire entrance with orders to clear these passage ways to permit the gas to escape and to expedite the work of searching for survivors.
First reports were to the effect that fire was raging within the mine but rescue crews coming out after short shifts were unable to confirm these reports although they had made but little progress into the interior of the mine proper.
All of the timbers in the main portal were wrecked by the force of the blast.
Practically all of the men entombed within the mine and believed by company officials to be dead, have been residents of the mining community of Sublet for years.

Fathers and Sons
Fathers and sons, according to the company's statements here, were employed in the mine and it is believed that practically entire families have been wiped out by the blast.
The mine, which has been worked for 16 years, is one of the largest soft coal producing mines in this section of Wyoming. A normal force of 200 men in employed in the mine but the working force was reduced considerably today, because of repair work that had been planned by the company. As a result, a crew of but forty seven miners was sent into the mine this morning, a crew sufficient only to produce coal to meet the needs of the day's orders.

It was here that an Illinois Central freight train crashed into a Chicago and Alton cattle train 40 years ago released a number of wild steers that roamed the streets of Normal for several days.

HIGHLAND, Ill. Sept. 16. (AP)—Three men were arrested today in connection with the investigation of the mysterious slaying of John Nungesser, 34, well to do farmer, who was shot to death on the road a mile from his home near here late yesterday. Those near the scene of the crime, under arrest and taken to the Madison county jail at Edwardsville are Emil Fricker, 44, a farmer residing seven miles north-east of Nungesser's home; Jacob Landert, 39, a farm hand and employed by Fricker; and Eldo Ernli, 21, employed in a shoe factory at Highland. Fricker is being questioned about a dispute between him and the Nungessers over $1,500 which Mrs. Minnie Nungesser, widow of the slain man claimed was due her in wages for work at the Fricker home before her marriage.
Nungesser is said to have expressed fear his life would be in danger if he remained in the community and was arranging to move to another farm. The three men were observed near the scene of the shooting, officers said. Twelve bullets were found in the body, some apparently fired from close range.

Captain Duken found what he was looking for, for "Big Bill" ran into an offshoot of the gulf storm which swept inland east of here Sunday evening provided mountainous waves rolling before a brisk gale. Captain Duken expressed satisfaction with the seaworthiness of the craft.

Menus for a Family

Breakfast—Orange juice, poached eggs on whole wheat toast, corn oysters for adults, broiled bacon, popovers, milk, coffee.

Luncheon—Fresh lima beans, cottage cheese, apple jelly, whole wheat bread, butter, milk, tea, peach shortcake.

Dinner—Broiled beef steak, twice baked potatoes, buttered beets, marshmallow salad, toasted crackers, milk, coffee, whole wheat bread and butter.

Poach the eggs in milk and use the milk as a sauce for the toast. Instead of adding the cheese and eggs to the twice-baked potatoes for the four-year-old child, merely scoop out the potato, season with butter, salt and pepper and hot milk and return to the oven just long enough to brown the top with the rest of the potatoes.

As long as fresh corn and tomatoes are in season, use them lavishly. You will like these corn oysters and they are quite as good for luncheon or dinner as for breakfast.

Whole Wheat Bread
One cup boiling water, 1 cup milk, 3 tablespoons sugar, 1 tablespoon salt, 1 yeast cake, 4 tablespoons lukewarm water, 5 cups whole wheat flour.

Add boiling water to milk. Dissolve yeast cake in lukewarm water and when milk is lukewarm add yeast. Add salt and sugar and beat in enough flour to make a batter stiff enough to drop from the spoon. Beat well, cover and let stand in a warm place until double its bulk. It will take about three hours to rise. Stir in the rest of the flour, kneading lightly in the bread bowl. Pour into well greased bread pans, making the pans about half full. Cover with a towel and let stand in a warm place until the loaves are not quite double their bulk. Bake in a moderate oven for 1-1-2 hours.

If preferred the bread can be started the night before baking. In this event use 1-2 yeast cake in place of a whole one.

Marshmallow Salad
Twelve marshmallows, 1-2 cup diced celery, 1 cup seeded white grapes, 1-2 cup chopped English walnuts, 1-2 cup diced pineapple, whipped cream, boiled salad dressing.

Cut marshmallows in quarters. Mix celery, nuts, grapes, pineapple and marshmallows with dressing. Arrange on shredded lettuce, drop a spoonful of whipped cream on each plate and serve to persons of school age or over.

AIRPLANE MANEUVERS GALORE AT RANTOUL

RANTOUL, Ill. (AP)—Difficult feats of airplane maneuvering, enlisting the co-operation of pilots of the aerial demonstration to be air service field in the middle west, will compose the program of the aerial demonstration to be held at Chanute Field, here, for the benefit of the Army Relief society Sunday afternoon, September 21.

From the time the first airplane writes "Hello" in the air at 2 p. m., until the last sky writer spells out "finis" and ends the program, there will be nearly three hours given over to the various individual and formation events. This meet has been authorized by the Secretary of War, at the request of the Chief of the Air Service, and is to be conducted chiefly by the flying personnel of Chanute Field.

Preparations are being made, it is announced, to make it the best flying exhibition ever conducted in this section of the country. Every type of battle plane will be flown and all types from the tiny three-cylinder Sperry Messenger with its wing spread of 14 feet to the mighty Martin Bomber with two 400 h. p. motors will be seen in action.

The newly developed Curtiss pursuit plane, a modification of the celebrated army racing plane and the exact type flown by Lieutenant Maughan in his down-to-earth transcontinental flight will be on exhibition and will be flown. These planes attain a tremendous speed and are more flexible than any plane ever yet designed.

There will be sky-writing, parachute jumping, and assimilated attacks on observation balloons and other aircraft. Bombing for accuracy, using the type of plane which the army used in its battleship bombing, maneuvers, will be engaged in and a race of eight planes for the Wheat Trophy will be flown. A smoke screen, probably the most effective post-war development in aviation, will be put down. Altogether there will be 14 events, each different in character and each designed to demonstrate some particular phase of aerial activity. The meet will be an honest effort, promoters say, to show aviation in all of its aspects and to show visitors the capabilities and possibilities of this newest arm of national defense.

Proceeds from the meet will go to the Army Relief society, which is operated for the benefit of dependent widows and children of officers and men of the regular army.

Nightly Round of Local Officers Reveal but Three Tramps in City Monday Night

Only three "hoboes" were overnight visitors in Jacksonville Monday night according to announcement by the police department yesterday. It is the custom of the night police to visit the railroad yards each night and look over the various "bo" camps. Early Tuesday morning the police made their usual rounds and failed to find the usual number of travelers.

One hobo was found in a box car in the Chicago & Alton yards and another was sitting by a camp fire at the "bo" hangout in the Burlington yards in the southeast part of the city. One traveler appeared at the police station and registered for the night and was given a bed in the bunk room.

On their rounds the police have found as many as eight men in one box car.

SCHOOL FOR DEAF WILL OPEN TODAY

Large Enrollment Predicted For The Current Term—Get Acquainted Party Planned For Next Week.

The Illinois School for the Deaf will open sessions this morning with chapel exercises at the usual hour. Pupils for the school continued to arrive during the day Tuesday and it was estimated last night that about 360 had already registered with many more enroute. It is predicted that the enrollment this year will at least equal, and probably exceed that of last term, as many new students have so far enrolled, especially among the little folks. Aside from those coming by train, many arrived by auto, some of them encountering difficulties on account of the muddy roads.

The house staff and teachers have arrived and very few changes are seen as compared with the personnel of last term. After the school work has become thoroughly organized, it is planned to hold a get-acquainted party on the front lawn some time next week for the purpose of allowing all of the pupils to become thoroughly acquainted with all of their schoolmates. The band boys and members of the Tigers football squad have been at the school for some time.

TWO RECEIVE INJURIES WHEN ELEVATOR FALLS

Leonard Shelton and Otis Hancy Sustain Painful Cuts in Accident Yesterday Afternoon.

Painful injuries were sustained yesterday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock by Leonard Shelton and Otis Hancy, employees of The Courier company, in the press room, when the fastenings of an elevator used in conveying newspaper forms between the press and composing rooms gave way. Immediately following the accident Mrs. H. C. Woltman and A. M. King were called and found the injuries of both men to be painful, though not necessarily serious. Shelton received the worst injuries, having deep cuts on his scalp and a long cut across his face. Five stitches were necessary to close this wound. Hancy received scalp lacerations and one leg was scratched and bruised.

The elevator upon which the two were riding dropped seven feet into the pit. The fall jarred the heavy forms which were being conveyed and these struck the pressmen who were thrown from their feet. Both men were taken to their homes after receiving medical attention.

Charles S. Deneen, To Speak Here Tonight

Ex-Governor Charles S. Deneen will come from Petersburg this evening over the Chicago & Alton train and at 8 o'clock is to deliver an address in the court house. While Mr. Deneen comes in advocacy of his candidacy for the senatorship on the Republican ticket, he will without doubt follow his usual course and discuss general public questions.

Mr. Deneen has for years been in public life. As governor of the state he made an exceptional record for sound business administration and a record which gave him the confidence of the people. After retiring from office he re-entered the practice of law and while still interested in politics, he has been actively and prominently engaged in law work in Chicago.

Long a student of public affairs, he is fitted by experience and disposition for the office he is now seeking. Men and women of Jacksonville and surrounding territory will no doubt welcome this opportunity to hear a discussion of the questions which are uppermost in this important but comparatively quiet national campaign.

C. S. Black and Miller Weir as chairman and secretary of the county Republican central committee will go to Petersburg this afternoon to accompany Governor Deneen to Jacksonville. Others planning to go to Petersburg for a like purpose are Col. O. C. Smith, Dr. J. M. Wolfe, M. L. Hildreth and a number of others.

Mr. Black said last night that it is hoped that various members of the central committee and others interested in party affairs will go to Petersburg. R. L. Dye of this city and E. P. Caldwell of Havana will join Gov. Deneen's party at Mason City earlier in the day.

THIS IS SURE BAD FOR THE ICE MAN

Petrified Ice Said to Have Been Discovered in a Nebraska Cavern

Here is a tale from Nebraska, marvelous if true. It appeared in a dispatch from O'Neill, Neb., in the Post Dispatch:

The discovery by Doc Wilkinson last week of a vast cavern of petrified ice in the canyons of Skull Creek, just above its junction with the Calamus River, several miles west of Beaver Flats, may be the solution of refrigeration at low cost for the poor of the tenement districts of the large cities. Experiments conducted with the fossil by the doctor in his laboratory at the Flats show that it retains the frigidity which it possessed when congealed, perhaps many thousands of years ago, and that it loses none of it, even when exposed to the direct and burning sun.

In the investigation of the commercial possibilities of the discovery, slabs of the petrified ice placed in the cooling chambers of household refrigerators have proven so satisfactory that the leading butcher shop of Beaver Flats has decided to junk its expensive artificial refrigeration plant. One local ice cream factory has contracted for a carload of the crushed product for use in its packers, and local jitney owners find that a handful introduced in the radiators enables them to run without fan belts.

The cavern is located in a section long noted for its fossils, and was made while the doctor was endeavoring to trace the source of the extremely low temperature which constantly prevails in the area of fossilization. The cavern as yet has not been fully explored, but is believed to occupy the entire base of the immense hill of several hundred acres into which it penetrates.

MASONS MAKE PLANS FOR MASONIC TEMPLE

A campaign will be started soon among the Masons of the city for the New Masonic Temple to be erected on West College avenue. The campaign committee held a meeting Monday night and it was stated that plans are moving along satisfactorily. Members of the committee include Dr. G. H. Kopperl, chairman; Harrison King, Harlan A. Williamson and W. G. Goebel.

A meeting and a banquet of the entire Masonic body to be held in the city next week has been arranged at which the entire building program will be placed before the membership of the committees.

delivered by the pastor, Rev. M. P. Pierson, and the singing was by the choir of the church, all personal friends of the deceased. The floral tributes were extensive and of rare beauty. A large concourse followed the remains to the White Hall cemetery for interment.

A meeting of Culver G. A. R. post is announced by the adjutant, G. R. Adams, to be held Wednesday afternoon to consider further plans for the erection of flag receptacles in the White Hall cemetery. The movement has received a momentum since last Saturday that insures the undertaking being carried out to completion, and the matter is under the direction of the G. A. R. Post. All patriotic organizations in the city have interested themselves in the movement.

A party of government surveyors has begun a geological survey about White Hall under the direction of J. A. Duck. They have been stationed at Carrollton for three months. The party includes A. W. When they left Pekin to visit the state fair, they decided to drive on to White Hall and be married. The groom is a machinist in the Northwestern railroad shops at South Pekin.

FATHER AND SONS IN THE MINISTRY

Under the above topic a recent number of the Boston "Congregationalist" writes about Rev. G. E. Stickney of this city and his father, Rev. E. B. Stickney:

"Rev. E. B. Stickney was born in New Hampshire in 1833. His father was a farmer and the youngest of nine children. He united with the church at 15 years of age. He attended the district school three months a year till he was 17 when he entered Kimball Academy, two years after which he entered Dartmouth college. By teaching during the winter he worked his way thru and graduated in four years. He finished the seminary course at Andover in 1881 and had plans for missionary work but he finally decided to take home work and asked for a difficult field.

He was sent to Detroit in north western Minnesota in September, 1881, where he organized Sunday schools and made them into churches and built one house of worship during the three years he was there.

He was later pastor for a short time in North Dakota and was later appointed missionary of the Sunday School and Publishing society. He became joint representative of the Sunday School and Home Missionary societies, and continued in their work ten years. For two years and a half Montana was a part of his territory.

IT STARTED SOMETHING
"I have not said anything to you, but have been saying to others and have induced many to take your medicine and be convinced. Mayr's Wonderful Remedy is correctly named. It removed stuff from me I never thought could be in a human being and I feel like a different person. The pain in my right side disappeared at once, which four doctors said would require an operation; also the bloating and indigestion." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. At all druggists. Adv.

In 1909 he was made superintendent of North Dakota and served 12 years when he retired on account of age. He is now assistant superintendent.

During the 35 years of work he traveled 1,100,000 miles. He was one of the founders of Fargo college and has continued on its board of directors till the present time. He was honored with the title of D. D., by Fargo and by his alma mater, Dartmouth. He has also served Chicago Seminary on its board of directors for more than 20 years.

Dr. Stickney has been pre-eminently a Christian statesman. He has never counted his life dear to himself but has all these years been laying it down for the service of his Master. His comment concerning his work is "If I had it to do over again I would want to do the same but do it better."

Rev. George E. Stickney, the son, was born in Fargo, N. D., in 1892. He had his training in the public schools and graduated from Fargo college in 1914 and from Chicago Seminary in 1917. During two years of his course he was associated with Rev. Hubert C. Herring, in the pastorate of the Burlington, Wis., church and the last year became pastor.

In 1917 he resigned to enter war service. He served first in the Y. M. C. A. and later was commissioned chaplain and saw many months of service overseas. Upon his return he served two years as assistant pastor at Appleton, Wis., and then became pastor at Jacksonville, Ill. In addition to doing excellent work in the routine of the pastorate he makes a specialty of religious education and young people's work.

In addition to the foregoing a loyal member takes pleasure in saying the worthy gentleman and his estimable wife have peculiarly endeared themselves to their people in countless ways of thoughtful kindness, devoted, intelligent effort, socially and in every other manner.

NEW YORK, Sept. 16.—Stock prices displayed a firm undertone in today's market which was again characterized by extreme dullness. There was a continued absence of public participation with professional traders apparently marketing time pending further developments having a bearing on the political and economic situations. Standard industrials such as U. S. Steel common, Baldwin, American Can, American Sugar Refining and DuPont improved fractionally.

Studebaker crossed 40 to a new top during a temporary rally in the automotive issues. Oil shares continued to sag in reflection of unfavorable trade conditions although the losses were held to fractions. Reports of increased tire sales brought fresh buying into the rubber issues. U. S. Rubber common and first preferred closing one and 1/4 points higher, respectively, while Kelly Springfield six percent preferred showed a net gain of one point at 55 and the common moved up to 17 1/2.
Rails showed mixed changes but gained outnumbered losses at the close.

CHICAGO CASH GRAIN

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Cash
wheat was in fairly good demand today, the bulk of receipts being applied on contracts. The market was unchanged to 1/4 higher;
with premium and discounts unchanged to 1/4 better on off grades of hard and yellow hard. Spring wheat and red were nominally unchanged. Shipping sales here were 235,000 bushels of which 75,000 bushels were to exporters.
The seaboard estimated 500,- 000 bushels worked for export.
There were charters for 300,000 bushels to go to Buffalo.

WHEAT ESTIMATES IN CANADA LARGER

CHICAGO, Sept. 16.—Something of a jolt to friends of higher prices for wheat resulted today from the fact that unofficial Canadian crop estimates which were expected to be bullish turned out to be bearish instead.
The wheat market closed unsettled 1/4 to 1/2 net lower, December $1.33 1/2 to $1.35 1/2 and May $1.40 1/2 to $1.40 1/2 with corn 1/4 to 1/2 off, oats 1/4 to 1/2 down, and provisions varying from 5c decline to 12c gain. Although it had been predicted that the new Canadian crop figures would indicate a yield of only 250,000,000 bushels for three prairie provinces as against a government forecast of 267,000,- 000 bushels the new private estimate totalled 295,000,000 bushels. As a result the market oper here under considerable selling pressure, and underwent a material setback. On the downturn in price buying increased and rallies ensued. The rallies tho failed to hold well, when buyers attempted to realize profits.

Demand for wheat appeared to come largely from houses with seaboard connections but was confined to downturns. On the other hand a fresh estimate of wheat acreage in Argentina totalled 1,000,000 acres smaller than had generally been expected.
Sympathy with wheat eased down corn and oats but wet weather adverse to rapid maturity of the corn crop acted as an offset in part. It was said too that vessel room for 1,500,000 bushels of oats had been chartered at New York. Export buying lifted rye to new top prices for the season.

WRITES OF TRAVELS IN GREAT BRITAIN

George W. Adams, who has made an extensive tour of European countries during the past three months, has returned to the city and will again take up his studies at Illinois college. Mr. Adams has written a series of letters to the Journal, giving facts about the countries thru which he has traveled, and below is given another of these letters. In this letter the writer gives an interesting account of his visit to the little city of Chester and to various other points in England. The letter follows:

Soon after leaving the lake district old bicycle and I began bumping up and down over the cobblestone roads of Lancashire. It is not as bad as it sounds for even a Lancashire road is better than nine out of ten Illinois roads. England has been at that road game since Caesar's time and has developed some prize winners.

It is a most abrupt change from the lakes to Lancashire. The former is pure wild mountain beauty while the latter is one of the most densely populated and "coal-smoked" areas on earth. It is in this county that most of England's manufacturing is done. From Preston Lancashire to Warrington Lancashire, a distance of about 40 miles, the road is lined with buildings almost all the way. On each side one passes multitudes of coal pits and factories.

Northwestern England is notorious for its nasty cold drizzly weather. And yet, strange to relate it is the same weather that has made it the richest part of the country, for the manufacture of good cotton goods demands just that dampness.

When one gets southwest of Warrington the country seems entirely different. The scenery is very soft, with low wooded hills and brilliant little green fields. Most of the cottages are some centuries old and present a decidedly picturesque appearance with their thatched roofs, white-washed walls and ancient black timber-work.

The little city of Chester is ideal. It has the quaintness of York, with its city wall, Minster and Roman ruins, without having York's dirty and unkempt appearance. The many of its streets are narrow and winding it has some very wide and handsome avenues. There are some shops there that can approximate London. The city is rich in handsome old half-timbered houses and inns and the people, realizing that quaint things will draw people to the town, have built a number of new buildings in harmony with the old. The old wall is still intact, tho the gates are now near the middle of the city. It is used largely by young couples as a summer's night promenade. On the wall is a little old tower from which the ill fated Charles I watched the defeat of his army. This little tower is now fitted up as a small museum, everything from Roman relics to an eighteenth century sedan chair being kept there.

The chief Roman relics at Chester are the remains of two baths. Of each the Hypocaust is the most noticeable part. The Hypocaust is the little forest of short pillars that held up the floor of the warm room. Fires were built among them, making the room above so hot that the Romans enjoyed what we term today a Turkish bath.

One of the interesting houses of Chester is an old Tudor house called "God's Providence house." It received this name because it was the only house in Chester to escape the ravages of the great plague of 1666.

Another thing that the famous little city is noted for is its famous "Rows," which are merely a sort of a second story sidewalk built into the store front. People may walk quietly along up there gawking in all the antique store windows that clutter up the place without having to worry about the traffic.

I left Chester in the usual English drizzle and pedaled southeast, toward Stafford. For the first 30 miles the territory was quaint and pretty. Then I did hit a mess. I refer to the pottery and manufacturing districts of Staffordshire known as the "Black Country," and well applied to, as the air is full of smoke and each town is more slovenly and God forsaken than the one before.

All bad things come to an end so finally I found myself pedaling industriously up the pretty little green hills of Northern Worcestershire. There was a fine view of the Welsh mountains to the west. The villages were like those of Cheshire, very old, pretty and quaint. I passed a charming old black and white inn named the "Dick Whittington." On the sign board was a picture of a little boy leaving home with a little bundle on a stick and with a cat marching proudly at his heels with its tail straight up like a mast. The most interesting thing about the place was however the shoal of pussies hanging about in the yard. There must have been eight or nine of them.

While on the subject of signs I might mention a few treasures that I have seen. One inn was named "The Fruits of War" and carried on its sign board the picture of an eighteenth century Grenadier, sans arms, sans leg and with a bandage around his head. In Cumberland I passed the following sign "John Jones licensed to retail Ales and Spirits" to be consumed on the premises "Take a Quart Home to the Old Lady." A hotel in Yorkshire had the following sign "King George Temperance."

Stratford Apartment a new 7% Equitable issue, 200 feet from Sheridan Road Belmont Harbor, just out Sept. 1st. First customer bought $25,000 of these bonds. SMITH & SIX Hotel." "Guinness Ales and Stouts for sale here." In Warwickshire there is a brewery named "All Saints Brewery Co."

But away with the drivel. I puffed on toward Worcester where they have a fine cathedral and a most interesting town hall. Worcester was one of the "Loyal" cities in the Civil Wars and was the last to surrender to the Parliament. They still had these royalist sentiments in Queen Ann's time when they build the town hall, and so decorated it with emblems of their loyalty. On one side of the door is a large and ornate statue of Charles I while on the other side is Charles II. Over the center of the doorway they have Oliver Cromwell's head, nailed by the ears to the wall.

On to Gloucester thru the some sort of pretty country and in the usual mist and drizzle. At Gloucester I put up at a fine old hotel named the "Old Inn," which was built in 1450 as a hospice for Pilgrims to the tombs in the Cathedral. When it was a hundred years old the young Lady Jane Gray was proclaimed Queen in its courtyard. In common with the other historic inns it has boosted its prices to a New York level for a Pisgah accommodation, wanting a dollar for luncheon, 85 cents for breakfast and $1.50 for dinner.

mer. The other chief attraction of Gloucester is its lovely cathedral, which I don't have the vocabulary to describe. I had planned to bicycle down to Bath and then across to London, but the rain still kept pattering down and I was anxious for the bright gas lights of London and Paris so on the spur of the moment the bicycle went to live in a second hand dealers shop and I boarded a densely populated train for London. After fooling away some days there, of which more later, I embarked for Paris.
